

The Residence Mauritius

Inspired by turn of the century- colonial mansions, The Residence Mauritius rekindles the grand tradition of yesterday. Nestled between tropical gardens and a long beach of powdery white sand, the hotel is a perfect combination of bygone charms and modern comforts. The majestic lobby with cathedral-like forms, the interior decoration in delicate shades of beige with tropical hardwood and antiques originating from remote provinces of Asia represent ultimate refinement.

The decoration of the oversized rooms and suites is an inspired blend of sobriety and elegance. The same sophistication is present in the staff's attire: the women wear long sand-toned dresses or silk saris in natural colour while the men wear trousers and raw linen waistcoats.

The hotel prides itself on its cuisine, whose symphony of subtle aromas, tastes and colour can be savoured in three restaurants: The Dining Room where atmosphere and cuisine match the elegant a la carte menu draws its inspiration from the food and spices of the island. The Veranda where light lunches are served around the pool. And the Plantation house, where fresh seafood and Creole cuisine are offered in a spectacular oceanfront setting and guests may also enjoy live Sega performances and entertainment.

The Bar, spacious yet intimate, its walls hung with a fine collection of engravings of historical scenes from Mauritius, awaits you for late breakfast, traditional tea or exotic cocktails.

Set sail on a sea of serenity and let yourself float on a tropical ocean of relaxation and wellbeing in The Sanctuary, the hotel's health centre. You will be welcomed with a sophistication inspired by Asian expertise: abandon yourself to the care of delicate hands. Slip into the peaceful atmosphere of the serenity room where, sheltered beneath a veil of white, you can let mind and body float on their own intimate journey.

The Sanctuary offers treatments which help eliminate personal stress patterns and increase your energy. Release travel fatigue and chronic stress with a program designed to suit your personal needs and to improve your body's healing process. Individual programs and treatments are recommended after a consultation with one of the trained therapists.

For business meetings and conferences, the Residence is the perfect place to host small groups in the two air-conditioned meeting rooms. Guests are allowed to combine business and leisure. The office equipment includes overhead projector, slide projector, screen, video, paperboard, microphones, E-mail access, Internet and photocopy service.
