

This brand new little gem of a hotel on its exclusive beach property in the small village of La Preneuse is so exquisitely tucked away, that one may just drive by without ever knowing it to be there. About one hours drive away from the airport and built on two floors in villa style, it offers 16 rooms and a pool with Jacuzzi.

The lucky finder though is rewarded with a warm welcome in the tiny but impeccably furnished reception area. Newly arrived guests may recline on comfortable sofas and chairs and sip a welcome drink, while their formalities are done in a speedy and friendly way.

They may wonder, while waiting, if the nearby ocean has drifted into the lobby where it met the rich earth of Mauritius, and together they left their coloured marks; since turquoise and dark brown are predominant in the colour scheme of Les Sirandanes.

Those still under the impression of the small reception area will be surprised about the size of the rooms. They are airy, spacious and furnished in tropical style; the walls decorated with pictures of exotic flowers and plants. Most of the rooms feature double beds and a small desk. The adjoining bathrooms are equipped with combined bathtub/ shower, hairdryer and cosmetic mirrors. All rooms provide personalized bath robes and beach towels.

Culinary delights are very important at Les Sirandanes. This becomes clear after one good look at the impeccable hotel kitchen and the restaurant which takes up the main spot in the hotel garden and is situated directly at the beach. After tasting the delicious fusion – cuisine of chef..... one fully understands its importance and central location and eagerly looks forward to the next meal.

Cocktails and cold drinks are served at the bar on the side, which is open from early afternoon until the restaurant closes and which is also the spot for hot music and romantic sunset drinks.

Couples wanting to exchange their marriage vow may find just the right place to do so in the garden by the exotically designed pool or at the beach.

Consisting of one little room, the Spa is nevertheless equipped with all the amenities; natural products are lined up for your comfort and relaxation. The list of treatments and massages is surprisingly long and after its planned extension, this will be a true haven of wellness, ready to fulfill even the most sophisticated wants and needs.

Since its opening only a few weeks ago, Les Sirandanes has already gathered the reputation of a small but high classed and stylish holiday haven, ready to welcome and embrace the visitors, drawing them into its uniquely romantic and pampering atmosphere with the unbeatable mix of stylish accommodation, haute cuisine and a promising spa.
